

LOCAL BREVITIES.

G. S. McKenzie, the Hilo horseman, arrived Saturday in the Kinau to take in the track events Wednesday.

There will be a meeting of Executive Committee of the Kapiolani Maternity Home at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, at the Home.

"Bob" Scott, formerly clerk at the Hawaiian and Moana hotels, and recently manager of the Hilo hotel, arrived Saturday in the Kinau.

A delightful dance was given Saturday night at Hawaiian hotel for the guests and townsfolk. Ellis' orchestra contributed music and dancing continued until nearly midnight. A large number of people were present and both the Walkiki lanais were used.

While the steamer Helene was heading for Honolulu on Friday, and was off Maalaea Bay, Maui, the passengers experienced what they believe to have been an earthquake jolt, the vessel receiving a shock as if a sandbar had been struck by her. The steamer swayed for a short space of time. The lead, which was cast immediately after the shock, gave a depth of 100 fathoms.

An okolehau still located in a house in a small alley leading off from Alapai line, in Palama, and near to the new Palama Fire Station, was raised by Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth and Officer Van Giesen Saturday, and the alleged owner of the still, or tenant of the house, is Manuel Vierra, who is a laborer at the Wilder wharf. Only Vierra's wife was on the premises at the time of the raid.

Flying Ants

Flying ants are infesting the city in myriads and have become terrors to households. Since Monday the pests have been on the increase until in many sections of the city people have been put to the necessity of keeping a close watch over the preparation of the family meals lest a few of the insects become a portion of each dish. Hubach and all manner of destroyers have been used ad libitum, but still they come. Not only are the homes of residents infested, but downtown restaurants are visited. Owing to the pests being dangerous to furniture, householders are kept busy preventing them from depositing eggs and re-washing in any one place for any length of time. The experience of several people has taught them to shake their garments well before donning them, as otherwise collections of ants which have taken up their residence inside their apparel are soon made known.

Editor Smith Soon Out.

On Saturday afternoon Governor Dole issued a full pardon to Walter G. Smith, editor of The Advertiser, who had served a little less than forty-eight hours of his thirty day sentence for contempt of court. It is understood that the Governor took this course after consultation with Chief Justice Frear and a careful review of the written decisions. He deemed the sentence excessive. Mr. Smith, who had been as handsomely entertained by Warden Henry as official propriety would allow, was returned to his Manoa ranch in good time for milking but regretful that he could not bring the garden with him. The latter, on parting, wished him many happy returns.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

H. M. Ayres is no longer connected with this paper.

Andrew MacKinnon is now a stockbroker in London.

The Anglican Church Chronicle is out with a number of special excellence.

Among the additions to the Custom House baseball team are Harry Wilder, Lionel Hart and Chris Willis.

At Wallingford, Vt., May 25th, a daughter was born to the Rev. Silas P. Perry and wife, the late chaplain of Kamehameha Schools.

Norman Orma, formerly of this city, and a member of the Rough Riders regiment, is to be married in Washington, June 17, to Miss Selena Hopper.

The sidewalk on the Walkiki side of Nuuanu street between Pauahi and Chaplain streets is overrun with lanterns and weeds and is in need of clearing.

An excellent concert was given at the Kamehameha School on Saturday evening for the benefit of the baseball team and the Kanewai fund, and considerable money was realized.

The Bishop of Panopolis leaves in the Alameda Wednesday for the coast for the benefit of his health. He goes to Southern California. Rev. Father Matthias will officiate in his absence.

Letters have been received from Archdeacon Restarick, the newly elected Bishop of Honolulu. His consecration will take place early in July and his arrival in Honolulu may be looked for soon after.—Anglican Church Chronicle.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Damon was baptized at St. Andrew's cathedral yesterday morning, Rev. A. Mackintosh officiating. The font was beautifully decorated with flowers, and a large number of family friends were present.

We received a newsy letter from our friend Mr. John Catton. He is enjoying himself in Scotland, and will not return home until August, when he will bring back with him his two brothers, who have been in Scotland for several years.—Anglican Church Chronicle.

A runaway horse from the Hotel Stables caused considerable excitement yesterday on Hotel street, just at the time of the Hasinger funeral. The horse attempted to jump a fence which he had been harnessed to the carriage, and managed to get over with a part of the shaft, which was broken in the effort. The animal was captured at the corner of Alakea street.

The Rev. A. C. Wilson, rector of Sausalito, Cal., is spending a few weeks of rest and recreation in Hawaii. His congregation gave him the means to recuperate after a long period of arduous work which tried his nerves and brought his system to a low ebb. The reverend gentleman preached acceptably in St. Andrew's cathedral on Sunday, June 1.—Anglican Church Chronicle.

The Scottish Thistle Club is rapidly losing many of its most popular members. Two departed last week from the islands and "Piper" Murray and J. H. McGregor are to leave in the Alameda. Murray is one of the champion Scottish pipers and holds medals for his accomplishments. The club presented him on Friday evening with a badge in the design of a Scottish thistle appropriately inscribed.

Saturday was the last day on which tenders for Treasury notes were received by Treasurer Wright. Only one bid, and that for a small portion of the $150,000 which he wished to borrow, was put in, and the contract was not let. Some question as to the legality of the action of the treasurer made investors here shy of offering to take up the notes. The Executive Council at the meeting today will consider what further action to take in the matter, and new bids may be called for.

Niho, one of the pilot boatmen, is out on bonds, as the result of beating his wife on Friday. The complaint which led to the arrest was sworn to by Dr. Moore, who attended the injured woman, who had given birth to a child three days before the assault took place. It is alleged that Niho struck his wife on two separate occasions, and Dr. Moore told the police authorities that the woman was in a very serious condition. No charge is yet made against the boatman, as the police are awaiting the outcome of the woman's illness.

The church in Honolulu will miss greatly Mrs. and Miss Rogers, who have resided here for the past eighteen months. Miss Rogers has been a faithful member of the choir and a teacher in the Sunday school of St. Andrew's cathedral. She has also assisted in many benevolent works and endeared herself to a large number of friends outside the church. These estimable ladies leave with fervent wishes for their welfare in New Zealand, where they go to join Mr. Henry Rogers, who preceded them, and who is now doing remarkably well in that colony.—Anglican Church Chronicle.
